

A simple piece of wood

nordic by nature

Endless wood possibilities

How far can you take a simple piece of wood? That's the question we have been asking ourselves in the design of the Nordic by Nature floor.

Depending on the treatment of the floor, there will be a certain magical appearance. All of the surfaces you are walking on are treated with a combination of oil, soap and painting in different nuances of grey.

The thought is to avoid a reddish look and still keep the wood as untreated as possible. The material of the floor is a mixture of pine and oak and attracts attention with its different intensity and simplicity. Pine, mostly in light colors, is combined with oak, which is characterized by deep and darker shades. This wood species has a high durability, and it has been known from the Nordic for several years.
