

Experience the next generation of Convenience Shopping and Micro Markets with Shekel Brainweigh Innovendi unit: To open the door, Identify yourself (Credit or Loyalty cards, biometric, NFC) - Choose desired products (even return) - Close the Door & Enjoy! 100% frictionless shopping journey – always available, accurate, fast and easy!

Innovendi is a locked enclosure to store products on shelf racks at chilled or room temperature. Equipped with Shekel Brainweigh Product Aware technology, the system, based on IoT sensors, Artificial Intelligence and predictive analysis, records all transactions with standard real-time management system for the machine operator. Product identification, product position, replenishment plans and even suggested pricing are accomplished through its innovative technology.

Innovendi Value Proposition

For Retailers / Vending / Micro market operators:

- Autonomous Micro Market – convert staff service to self-service
- Extends business opening hours up to 24/7 at no extra costs
- Flexible variety of products
- Improves operations' excellence
- Unit operation made easier - real-time data of inventory status and transactions
- Full remote management of your units anywhere, anytime
- Limited access to high value items stored in a secured environment to prevent theft
- Enhances customer satisfaction and loyalty
- Full solution package – easily integrated with billing and inventory management systems, as well as automated video ad applications

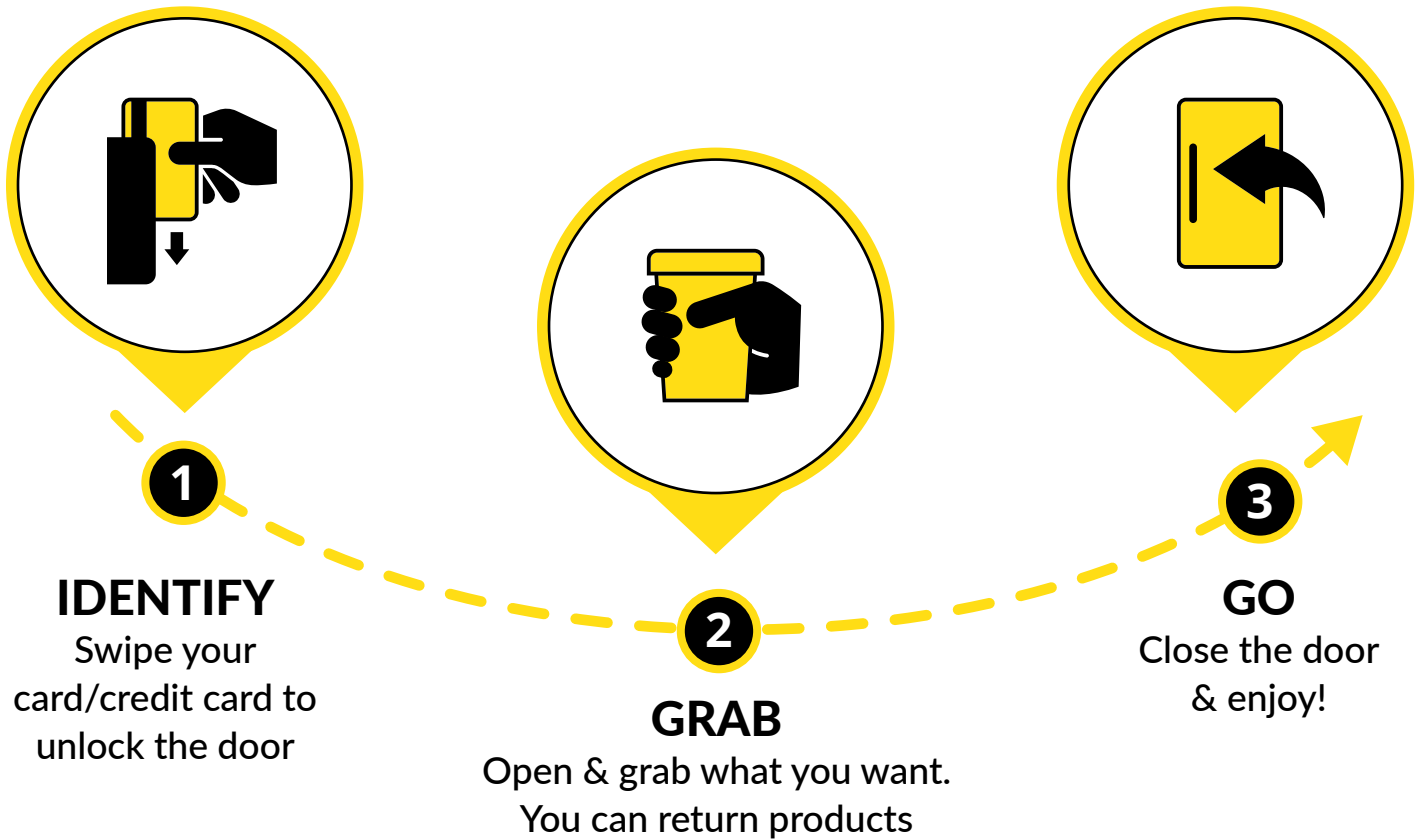

For CPG's:

- Creates brand awareness – direct touch with your consumer
- Better understanding of consumer behavior based on data analysis
- Position in high traffic public locations and events – additional business

For the End-user:

- Accurate and reliable next generation vending machine
- 21st century frictionless shopping experience
- 24/7 availability
- Consumer can put back unwanted item - satisfaction guaranteed
- Easy to use

HOW DOES IT WORK?

About Shekel Brainweigh

Shekel Ltd. is a well-established technology market leader revolutionizing the retail industry for more than 40 years, with its expertise in developing digital scale technology later implemented into self-checkout systems (SCO). Following last years of retail market disruption, the company has reinvented itself embracing the newest technologies of IoT, AI and data analytics to provide to the retail market an unparalleled system for autonomous micro market enabling frictionless shopping experience and operations excellence.

To learn more about Shekel Brainweigh, visit <http://www.shekelbrainweigh.com>